PYROLITHIC STONE

GEOLUXE®

COLORS

DESCRIPTION

Geoluxe® is a breakthrough material called Pyrolithic Stone™ which combines the noble beauty of natural marble with superior technical performance. A complex mixture of 100% mineral-based materials formed through patented GeoMimicry™ technology, the slabs reveal realistic marble-like veins throughout. Geoluxe® overcomes the imperfections of natural stone, offering the ultimate combination of elegance and performance.

IMPORTANT NOTE:

Geoluxe® is a surfacing product made of natural materials. Each slab is different and shows unique vein pattern. It is important to remember that variation in the natural materials that makes up Geoluxe® is to be expected and are not considered defects, this includes variations in shade, shape, size and color within each production. Marks caused by acidic foods will be less visible on a honed surface than on a polished surface. On the other hand, the polishing process (honed finish) opens up the pores and will make the material more susceptible to stains.
